

“Be art smart!”

—Brooklyn Borough President
Marty Markowitz

Greetings from Marty

I am proud to announce that Brooklyn Tourism is presenting a new cultural initiative, the smART Brooklyn Gallery Hop, which will shine the light on Brooklyn’s thriving art scene. Sunday, December 14, from 1pm to 6pm, 63 participating Brooklyn art galleries invite you to see their exhibitions, to meet their friendly, informative staff, and to enjoy refreshments.

Free smART Brooklyn Gallery Hop buses will run from four different hubs; each route loops through a different art gallery district. Buses will be staffed with art docents to inform you about Brooklyn’s vibrant art scene and to distribute smART tip sheets containing important information about buying and collecting art.

I encourage you to join the fun and become art smART! Hop on and off the buses and tour some of the galleries that have made Brooklyn’s art scene so famous. Who knows—you may even find the perfect gift just in time for the holiday season!
